Public Counsel Pro Bono Opportunities - 2020
Primary Contact: Public Counsel Pro Bono Director David Daniels, ddaniels@publiccounsel.org.

A. COMMITMENT OF ONE DAY OR LESS:

1. FEDERAL PRO SE CLINIC - FEDERAL COURTHOUSE
   For attorneys with two to three years litigation experience. Assist pro se litigants in a courthouse clinic setting under the supervision of Public Counsel staff. You will hone your understanding of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure and Federal Court forms. Contact: Janet Lewis at jlewis@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: Mondays, Wednesdays or Fridays – mornings or afternoons. Volunteer regularly or on a limited basis.

2. BANKRUPTCY SELF-HELP DESK AND CLINIC - FEDERAL BUILDING OR KARSH CENTER
   For all attorneys, law students, paralegals and paralegal students. Help individuals through the bankruptcy process, either by counseling one-on-one at the self-help desk or by presenting to a group in a workshop-style clinic. You will gain client-counseling skills and increase your bankruptcy knowledge. Contact: Maggie Bordeaux at mbordeaux@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment and Location: The self-help desk at the Roybal Federal Building (255 E. Temple Street) is open to the public on Mondays and Wednesdays from 10 a.m. noon, and 2 to 4 p.m.; volunteer quarterly or monthly. Clinics at the Karsh Family Social Service Center (3750 West 6th Street) are held twice a month on Fridays, noon to 5 p.m.

3. BANKRUPTCY REAFFIRMATION HEARINGS – L.A. OR WOODLAND HILLS
   For all attorneys. Advise a debtor about the consequences of reaffirming a particular debt prior to their reaffirmation hearing, then represent her at the bankruptcy court hearing. Contact: Maggie Bordeaux at mbordeaux@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: Volunteer monthly or quarterly at either court location. Each representation takes about two to three hours.

4. APPELLATE SELF-HELP CLINIC - SECOND DISTRICT COURT OF APPEAL – SPRING ST.
   For litigators interested in appellate practice who complete a one-hour training at the clinic. This self-help clinic at the Court of Appeal is supervised by Public Counsel and helps unrepresented litigants understand the appellate process. Under the supervision of a certified appellate law specialist you will interview clinic attendees, review their court file and any applicable appellate record, and help them navigate the appellate process. This is an “information only” clinic; your work ends once the three-hour clinic ends. Contact: Sandra Madera at smadera@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: Three-hour sessions are Wednesdays from either 9 a.m. to noon, or 1 to 4 p.m., and you can attend regularly or volunteer once.
5. Review/Revise Contract to Assist a Small Day Care Provider

For all attorneys. Review and revise a small business parent-provider contract for a small day care provider. Contact: Ritu Mahajan at rmahajan@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: On average, 3 to 5 hours over 2 to 3 weeks; deadlines are typically flexible.

6. Help Foster Youth Resolve Quality of Life Tickets

For California-licensed attorneys with at least three years of litigation experience; if you have less experience, you can be supervised by a more senior attorney at your law firm or corporate legal department. Assist non-minor dependent foster youth with outstanding quality of life offenses that need to be resolved (e.g., outstanding tickets and warrants for things like daytime curfew violations or riding the subway without paying the fare). You will receive a brief training and then be assigned an actual ticket matter. Next, you are headed to court (often traffic court) to resolve the ticket, either at the arraignment phase or at trial. Contact: Sharon Balmer Cartagena at sbalmer@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: About five hours, including the hearing; should the ticket require a trial then possibly seven to ten hours

7. Walk-In Clinic - Jackie Robinson Center, Pasadena

For all attorneys. Under the guidance of Public Counsel staff you will provide information and advice to walk-in clients on a many legal issues, including landlord-tenant law, public benefits, family law and bankruptcy/consumer debt. Contact: Kelly Evans at kevans@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: Second Saturday of every month, 9 a.m. to noon.

8. Clinic for Vulnerable Consumers – Public Library Sites

For all attorneys. Public Counsel, in partnership with the L.A. Public Library, runs consumer law clinics for persons seeking advice on housing and financial well-being issues, including fraud, foreclosure, debt collection, loans and home improvement contracts. Contact: Steph Carroll at scarroll@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment/Locations: The first Tuesday of the month, 3 to 6 p.m. at the Vermont Square Branch Public Library (1201 W 48th St.); and the third Tuesday of the month, 1 to 4 p.m. at the Benjamin Franklin Branch Public Library (2200 East 1st St.).

9. Saturday Discharge Upgrade Clinics for Veterans

Public Counsel’s Center for Veterans’ Advancement periodically hosts Discharge Upgrade Legal Clinics for veterans. These discrete clinics, which occur from 9 AM to 3 PM at Public Counsel’s offices on pre-scheduled Saturdays and at various times throughout the year, will allow you to help veterans in preparing their personal statement to change their discharge status. Changing a veterans’ discharge status can enable veterans to access valuable health and related benefits. More importantly, engaging in the application process can help veterans restore their integrity and dignity. Your work will involve assisting veterans face-to-face with filling out the discharge upgrade application and drafting their personal declaration. All of your work will be completed during this discrete clinic with no follow up work taken home with you and you will be working under the direct supervision of experienced Public Counsel veterans benefits law experts. Before you meet with the veteran, Public Counsel will offer you a 1 hour free MCLE training on Discharge Upgrades and drafting personal statements (declarations). All you need to bring to the clinic is your own lap top with wi-fi-internet and Microsoft Word word-processing.
capabilities. Public Counsel will take care of the rest. Contact: Paula Clamurro, at pclamurro@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: 9 AM to 3 PM on a single Saturday.

10. Deeper Federal Litigation Skills Building – Gain Litigation and Interviewing Skills for Federal Court Practice

This is an especially valuable opportunity for law students, post-bar graduates, newer attorneys, and attorneys in transition who are seeking to hone their federal court litigation skills. Volunteers are needed to assist with intake and research at the Federal Pro Se Clinic. The Clinic provides advice and litigation support to people involved in a wide variety of legal cases in federal court, including employment law, civil rights, and social security benefits. Volunteers interview clients, research case law, write legal memorandum, and assist with both pro se and represented litigation. Minimum qualifications: Law students, post-bar graduates, and attorneys. Excellent verbal, research and writing skills. Spanish/Korean/Mandarin proficiency is helpful but not required. Contact: Please send your resume, a 3-5 page writing sample and a cover letter to Janet Lewis at jlewis@publiccounsel.org with “Volunteer Attorney” in the subject line. Time Commitment: 1-2 days per week in the Clinic located in the Roybal Federal Building in downtown for a minimum period of three months.

11. Translation Services

For all over 18 who are fluent in Spanish, or other languages, including Russian, Arabic and French. The biggest need is Spanish. Most of Public Counsel’s projects need translation services, for example, to conduct a client interview, or present a translated version of a document to a court or administrative tribunal. Contact: Sandra Madera at smadera@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: Varies, but often only a few hours.

B. More In-Depth Case Work:

1. Represent a Debtor in a Bankruptcy Adversary Proceeding

For licensed bankruptcy attorneys with at least one-two year’s litigation experience. Represent a client seeking relief from the mounting pressures of crushing debts by representing her in an adversary Chapter 7 bankruptcy proceeding or case. Adversary proceedings are lawsuits filed in the bankruptcy court that are separate from but related to an underlying bankruptcy case and seek to challenge the responsibility of the debtor to assume particular debts. You will gain client interviewing and communication experience, while helping your client debtor get a “fresh start” with her financial future. Entails pleading filings, conducting discovery, appearances at court hearings and a possible trial in the bankruptcy court. Contact: Maggie Bordeaux at mbordeaux@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: Varies.

2. Help a Terminally-Ill Parent Appoint a Guardian to Take Care of Her Child

For all California-licensed attorneys. Provide legal help and social work support to establish a joint guardianship between a terminally-ill parent and another adult she has chosen. Public Counsel works intensively with the family to assist you to develop the facts needed to establish the guardianship. You will make written submissions to the Probate Court and engage in oral advocacy at what typically is a non-adversarial hearing. Detailed training materials are provided and Public Counsel staff are available to assist throughout. Contact: Sharon Balmer Cartagena at sbalmer@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: Typically about 25 hours over several months.

3. HELP A CHILD OBTAIN A PERMANENT GUARDIAN
   For all California-licensed attorneys. Provide assistance to youth and potential guardians where the child’s parents are unable to care for her and do not contest the guardianship appointment. Guardians are often the child’s grandparents. You will meet the client, prepare and file several judicial council forms that form the basis of the application for guardianship appointment, and attend the guardianship hearing at the Stanley Mosk Courthouse. Contact: Ylianna Perez-Guerrero at yg guerrero@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: About 25 hours.

4. HELP A CHILD IN FOSTER CARE BE ADOPTED INTO A PERMANENT HOME
   For teams led by a California-licensed attorney at law firms and in-house legal departments that are dedicated to handling adoptions on a periodic basis. You will help foster children who have been abused or neglected realize their dream of being adopted into a permanent home. Public Counsel provides comprehensive trainings and ongoing technical support throughout. In addition to finalizing the adoption, there is a big need for attorneys to advocate for children with special needs to obtain necessary services and the appropriate level of funding, including retroactive benefits. Contact: Karen Ullman at kullman@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: About 20 to 30 hours per case over a 3 to 5 month period, depending on the number of children and the service/benefits advocacy. Complex benefits cases require more time.

5. HELP A FOSTER CARE CHILD WITH DEVELOPMENTAL DISABILITIES ACCESS LIFE-CHANGING SUPPORTS
   For California-licensed attorney who either speak Spanish or can obtain assistance from a Spanish-speaking paralegal or assistant. Help families caring for children who are either currently in the foster care system or have recently adopted out of foster care. This program addresses the specialized needs of this traditionally underserved population by assisting families gain access to life-changing support and services through the appropriate regional center. You will provide direct representation at individual program planning meetings with the regional center, and follow-up with written and oral advocacy at administrative hearings if the regional center is unwilling to comply with the law. You will receive training and a written guide, and Public Counsel staff is available throughout. Contact: Brian Capra at bcapra@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: About 20 to 25 hours over several months.

6. HELP UNACCOMPANIED CHILDREN WHO SEEK SAFE PERMANENT HOMES IN THE U.S. ESTABLISH THEIR RIGHT TO IMMIGRATION RELIEF
   There are three projects that respond to the humanitarian crisis arising from the wave of children fleeing extreme violence in Central America. About 85 percent of children detained at the border are ultimately released to a relative caregiver or sponsor within the U.S. Thousands of these youth now make the L.A. area home. They need legal counsel. Public Counsel has developed what we think is the best model in the country for addressing these children’s needs. Our staff has special training to interview traumatized children and have been leaders in developing legal strategies to address the many unique legal issues arising from this crisis. We have tremendous resources.
(briefs, advisories, etc.) to share with our pro bono partners. Contact: Sara Van Hofwegen at svanhofwegen@publiccounsel.org.

Three pro bono opportunities:

a. Guardian Ad Litem: For all California lawyers. Some cases involve a child who has one parent living in the U.S. and one parent living abroad, and is thus entitled to Special Immigrant Juvenile Status (SIJS) and can reside in the U.S. if it is demonstrated she has been abused, abandoned or neglected by the parent who still resides in her home country. These cases are heard in the Family Law Division of the L.A. Superior Court, where judges require that in addition to any legal counsel, the child must also have an appointed Guardian Ad Litem (GAL) who is a lawyer to represent her interests in court. You will not make arguments in court, but will interact with the child and her lawyer and attend one or two court hearings to ensure the child’s interests are protected. Time Commitment: About 15 hours over several months.

b. Represent an Unaccompanied Child At An Asylum Hearing: For all lawyers. A number of cases are not resolved at the administrative level in the U.S. Asylum Office, and must be heard in Immigration Court. You will represent a youth who faces the risk of violence and persecution if they are ordered to return to their country of origin. Time Commitment: About 40 hours for cases not requiring a hearing in Court and about 80 hours for those requiring Court involvement.

c. Appellate Representation of Unaccompanied Children: Attorney registration depends on the forum of the appeal. There are a variety of appellate matters, ranging from filing writ petitions in the California Court of Appeals, to appeals of Immigration Court decisions before the Board of Immigration Appeals, to assisting with amicus briefs. Time Commitment: Varies.

7. ASSIST AN IMMIGRANT WHO IS A VICTIM OF DOMESTIC VIOLENCE OR OTHER CRIME OBTAIN LAWFUL RESIDENCY IN THE U.S. THROUGH A VAWA OR U-VISA APPLICATION

a. VAWA and U-Visa Representation: For all attorneys. Assist immigrant men, women and children who are victims of domestic violence and other crimes apply for and obtain lawful residency and access to social services through VAWA and U-Visa applications. You will undertake written advocacy and develop strong relationships with a vulnerable client. Contact: Gina Amato at gamato@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: About 25 to 30 hours over three to four months.

b. Adjustment of Status: For California-licensed attorneys with at least two years experience; if you have less experience, you can be supervised by a more senior attorney at your law firm or corporate legal department. Take on an “adjustment of status” case for a prior recipient of U-Visa relief. Here is what’s involved: A U-Visa holder may apply for legal permanent residency three years after obtaining a U-Visa, but prior to its expiration. Obtaining legal permanent resident status enables one to travel outside of the U.S., provides additional protection from deportation, and allows one to apply for U.S. citizenship when eligible. With fear of deportation rampant in the immigrant community, this is an opportunity to help immigrants with temporary status seek more permanency in an effort to avoid the threat of separation from their loved ones. Contact: Gina Amato at gamato@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: About 10 to 20 hours. Petitions are adjudicated within about 7 months, and no hearings are required.

8. ASSIST AN ASYLUM SEEKER AT RISK OF PERSECUTION IF SENT BACK TO HER COUNTRY OF ORIGIN
   For all attorneys. Represent asylum seekers who have been persecuted or fear persecution because of their nationality, race, religion, political opinion, or membership in a particular social group — including claims based on domestic violence and sexual orientation. Depending on the procedural posture of the case, you will prepare for and appear at a non-adversarial interview at the Asylum Office in Anaheim, or a one-day trial in immigration court, with the opportunity to put on witnesses. Extensive training and technical support is provided by Public Counsel staff throughout. Contact: For non-detained clients, Katka Werth at kwerth@publiccounsel.org. For detained clients, Talia Inlender at tinlender@publiccounsel.org or Elizabeth Hercules-Paez at eherculespaez@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: 40 hours for affirmative cases that only require an interview; 80 hours for cases requiring Court involvement.

9. ASSIST A FAMILY IN AN IMMIGRATION RELIEF CASE
   For all individual lawyers and law firms willing to help Public Counsel defend this client base. Assist undocumented families who have arrived in the U.S. and face deportation proceedings. These families have individual members with valid immigration relief claims, including valid claims for asylum relief. These cases present, which are pending in Immigration Court in a defensive posture, present unique facts in that potentially more than one family member may have a viable claim that would support immigration relief. The matters offer the opportunity for court appearances, the presentation of witnesses, and the development of a strong evidentiary record to support the requested relief. Extensive training and technical support by Public Counsel staff is provided by throughout. Contact: Rachel Odio at rodio@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: About 100 hours.

10. IMPACT LITIGATION: PARTNER WITH PUBLIC COUNSEL TO CREATE A FORCE IN THE FIGHT FOR EQUALITY
   Public Counsel’s Opportunity Under Law program is led by nationally-recognized civil rights lawyer Mark Rosenbaum and its mission is to address causes of economic injustice in communities that are losing ground in the fight for opportunity. “We do not accept as a given that there must be underachieving schools and out of reach higher education, dead end jobs, homelessness or childhood trauma associated with poverty and the failure of our democratic institutions to strengthen families and afford meaningful opportunity,” proclaims Rosenbaum. “We do not define these conditions as legal problems, legislative conundrums or organizing goals. Rather, they are all of the above and more, calling for comprehensive, innovative strategies to reinvent and reinvigorate those institutions that are the foundation of our democracy. Economic injustice in all its forms is the civil rights issue of the 21st century.”

The creation of Opportunity Under Law dramatically expanded Public Counsel’s impact litigation program, which also develops alliances with organizations specializing in economic research and policy analysis, communications, as well as political and social action campaigns. Consistent with Public Counsel’s long history of pro bono collaboration, Opportunity Under Law works closely with many law firms and gifted lawyers committed to volunteering their time in support of the program’s mission. Whether you are interested in dedicating a team of litigation attorneys within your firm to partner with Opportunity Under Law in the fight for equality, or you would like to donate much needed communication, data analysis or other supportive services to further the cause, Public Counsel wants to work with you. Contact: David Daniels at d.daniels@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: Varies.

11. CONSUMER FRAUD LITIGATION MATTERS
For California-licensed attorneys with at least three years of experience; if you have less experience, you can be supervised by a more senior attorney at your law firm or corporate legal department. Assist a vulnerable client who has been defrauded out of her home, personal property or life savings. Many cases involve bad-acting family members or unethical professionals operating independently from any prominent financial institutions. Consequently, these cases often do not create conflicts for law firms. Most cases are filed in a L.A. Superior Court, and offer a rich opportunity to gain litigation experience, including conducting the client interview, strategizing and shaping the case plan, drafting and filing the complaint, propounding and responding to discovery, preparing and arguing dispositive motions, and taking the matter to trial. Contact: Steph Carroll at scarroll@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: Varies.

12. REPRESENT LOW INCOME CLIENT IN AFFIRMATIVE HOUSING RIGHTS MATTERS OR EVICTION DEFENSE CASES
For California licensed attorneys affiliated with a law firm that can provide the necessary litigation support. Represent vulnerable low-income tenants who are at risk of losing their housing and who face landlords represented by aggressive lawyers. Some clients will bring affirmative lawsuits to prosecute violations of fair housing laws and to protect the habitability and safety of their homes. Other tenants will defend against the immediate threat of eviction by their landlords. All cases offer the opportunity to gather evidence, conduct discovery and get into court. You will be provided with training and ongoing technical support by Public Counsel staff throughout. Contact: Kelly Evans at kevans@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: Varies but cases involving the defense of a tenant facing the immediate threat of eviction (i.e., unlawful detainer cases) are typically resolved within six to eight weeks from the filing of the complaint.

13. REVIEW AN APPELLATE RECORD, PREPARE AN APPELLATE BRIEF, OR ARGUE A CASE BEFORE AN APPELLATE COURT
For California licensed attorneys with at least three years of litigation experience that includes some practical involvement in appellate brief writing. Public Counsel’s Appellate Law Program helps pro se litigants by evaluating their appeals to determine whether they are appropriate for placement with pro bono counsel for representation on appeal, and then locates pro bono counsel to handle appeals that make it through the screening process. Litigators and appellate specialists can both hone their appellate skills and further the interests of justice. Contact: David Daniels at dddaniels@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: Varies.

14. ASSIST A NONPROFIT OR SMALL BUSINESS THAT IS HELPING IMPOVERISHED COMMUNITIES GROW AND PROSPER
For California licensed attorneys with at least three years of transactional or advisory experience in one or more of the identified specialty areas. The Community Development Project provides comprehensive transactional services to numerous nonprofit organizations and small businesses that help strengthen communities struggling with poverty. Work ranges from assisting newly-conceived nonprofits with incorporation and obtaining tax exemption, to providing advice to established nonprofits and small start-up businesses in numerous practice areas, including contracts, labor and employment, intellectual property, fundraising law, affordable housing, real estate, land use and licensing, and tax compliance. Contact: Carlo Castro at ccastro@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: 5 to 25 hours.

15. PROVIDE TRANSACTIONAL AND ADVISORY SUPPORT TO A HOME-BASED CHILD CARE PROVIDER THAT SERVES LOW-INCOME FAMILIES
For California-licensed attorneys with at least three years of transactional or advisory experience in one or more of these areas: employment law, workers’ compensation, commercial real estate, contract negotiation/review, landlord/tenant representation, licensing and regulatory support, land use and permitting. The Early Care & Education Project serves the legal needs of home-based family childcare providers and childcare centers caring for children of low-income families. Volunteers will be trained by Public Counsel staff. Contact: Ritu Mahajan at rmahajan@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: 5 to 10 hours.

16. HELP A VETERAN SECURE DISABILITY BENEFITS FOR THEIR SERVICE-RELATED INJURIES
For any licensed attorney. Many military veterans come home with injuries – both physical and mental – as a result of their time on active duty. CVA helps homeless and low-income veterans navigate the VA’s complex benefits system by representing them in their applications and appeals for service-connected disability compensation. Cases involve drafting client affidavits, developing evidence of their in-service injuries, requesting and reviewing military and medical records, and writing an advocacy brief to support their applications. This is a great opportunity to work one-on-one with a veteran client and them obtain the benefits they have earned. Contact: CVA Administrative Assistant Alma Bonifacio at abonifacio@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: 40-50 hours.

17. HELP A VETERAN REMOVE LEGAL BARRIERS THAT ARE PREVENTING THEM FROM MOVING FORWARD
For California-licensed attorneys. Many veterans face barriers to employment and housing due to outstanding tickets and their involvement with the criminal justice system. This is a wonderful opportunity to help our veterans by removing these barriers while also providing you a chance to gain litigation experience. Attorneys will review court records, draft a client declaration, gather supporting evidence, file a petition for dismissal, and likely appear before the Superior Court.
Contact: CVA Administrative Assistant Alma Bonifacio at abonifacio@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: No more than 20 hours.

18. REPRESENT A VETERAN IN IMPROVING THEIR MILITARY DISCHARGE STATUS AND ABILITY TO ACCESS THE BENEFITS THEY DESERVE

For any licensed attorneys. Service-members experiencing symptoms of post-traumatic stress and traumatic brain injury do not always receive the treatment they need. As a result, their symptoms persist and too often are misconstrued as misconduct leading to their less than honorable discharge. They are thrown out with little support on the other side for their mental health and cognitive issues. This is an opportunity to advocate for a veteran in upgrading their discharge status which will open the door to VA healthcare and benefits, remove the stigma associated with their discharge, and increase their employment opportunities. Representation includes drafting client affidavits, developing supporting evidence, requesting and reviewing military and medical records, and writing an advocacy brief to support their applications. Contact: CVA Administrative Assistant Alma Bonifacio at abonifacio@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: 40-50 hours.

19. ADVANCE THE RIGHTS OF WOMEN AND GIRLS THROUGH POLICY RESEARCH AND INDIVIDUAL CLIENT REPRESENTATION

For all individual lawyers and law firms willing to help Public Counsel promote the interests of this client base. Public Counsel’s Audrey Irmas Project for Women and Girls’ Rights (WGR) was created thanks to a generous grant from the Audrey Irmas Foundation for Social Justice. The mission of this project is to advance equality, economic justice and opportunity for low-income women and girls in our community through a combination of direct legal services, policy advocacy, impact litigation, and community education. The project is currently focused on three key areas: workplace justice (defending the right of low-wage women workers to a safe and fair work environment free from exploitation, discrimination, and harassment); supporting women entrepreneurs (working with community partners to help low-income women and women veterans start small businesses and/or worker-owned cooperatives by providing free access to legal information and services); and empowerment and opportunity for girls K-12 (promoting equity, addressing barriers, and supporting at-risk girls to stay in school through participatory research, advocacy, technical assistance and community engagement). If you are interested in volunteering for a discrete research project to help advance the rights of the women and girls this project serves, or if you would be interested in providing limited scope representation and/or advocacy on behalf of an individual client, WGR would be thrilled to work with you. Contact: Jill Thompson at jthompson@publiccounsel.org. Time Commitment: 10 to 15 hours.

20. VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES AT PUBLIC COUNSEL’S OFFICES

For all lawyers, non-lawyers, law students and others. There are a variety of volunteer initiatives on site at Public Counsel where you work directly under the supervision of our staff as a volunteer member of Public Counsel’s team. We will post those opportunities on this list, on our website at www.publiccounsel.org, or on VolunteerMatch. Time Commitment: Varies.
