■ How Can I Request an Extension to File a Document? ■

If you need more time to file a document with the Court, you can ask the judge in your case to grant you an extension of time.

* WARNING * You cannot use this guide, or the accompanying forms, to extend your statute of limitations. Meaning, you must file and serve your case within the time required by law.

What Papers Must I File to Request an Extension?

To request an extension of time to file a particular document, you will need to prepare the following documents, which are included with this guide:

1. Request for Extension
2. (Proposed) Order
3. Proof of Service by Mail

Description of Each Document

Document #1 - Request for Extension

This is your actual request for additional time. Below, we go paragraph by paragraph, listing the information you need to include:

1. Explain to the court who you are. Write your name. Tell the judge if you are the plaintiff or the defendant.
2. What document do you need to file? Provide enough detail so the judge understands what document is due.
3. What is the current deadline for the document? In other words, what is your current due date?
4. Has the judge ever granted you an extension before this one? If so, put in the number of times you have requested and received an extension in this case. If you have never asked for one before, just put a zero in the space provided.
5. Tell the judge why you need an extension. You can check off as many options as apply to your situation, but make sure to write even more - use the blank lines to give the judge extra details.
6. Tell the judge how many additional days you are requesting.

Document #2: (Proposed) Order

This is an order for the judge to sign if he or she wants to grant your Request for Extension. You write this order as if you were the judge. Do not sign or date the proposed order—instead, you leave a space for the judge’s signature and date.

Document #3: Proof of Service by Mail

In this document, you or someone else will swear to the Court that you have mailed a copy of the Request for Extension to the opposing counsel or unrepresented party.

Filing and Serving Your Request for Extension

When you have filled out all of your documents, you must file them with the Civil Intake Division of the Court. File 1 original and 1 copy of each document with the Civil Intake Division. The clerk will stamp and return to you that 1 copy. Make sure you keep it as proof that you filed your document.

In addition, send 1 copy of each document to the opposing counsel or unrepresented party by mail on the same day that you file. This copy does not need to have the clerk’s stamp on it.

You may file your Request for Extension with the Court in person or by mail. Keep in mind that mailing your Request for Extension may delay the date on which it is filed.
